

The Exit Simulator

Confirm your great plan will happen

You probably have done your estate and succession planning. You have updated wills, trusts, shareholder agreements, and estate freezes, and you are hopeful that your heirs and advisors will carry out your wishes. You feel that you have done everything you can to protect your family and your company. Congratulations! We invite you to take one more step: The Exit Simulator.

By walking through a simulated implementation of your plan, you will know if your heirs and advisors understand your philosophy and see if your plan is truly affordable. We document what effect the financial realities of your plan's implementation will have on your family, your business and other beneficiaries.

For example, you will learn the answers to the following questions:

- Do the chosen people have the authority, wisdom and knowledge?
- Does everyone know and except their roles and responsibilities? Are they committed to your plan?
- What happens if their commitment to your plan changes?
- How would your executors pay the required taxes and other liabilities today?
- Would your company flourish with these liabilities today?
- Are the exit options for the next generation funded today?

The Exit Simulator gives you great clarity about the strengths and weaknesses of your estate plan from the human perspective. You will have greater confidence and peace of mind that your heirs and advisors will work together to honour your wishes.

If you feel you've got a great plan now, consider taking it for a test drive. The Exit Simulator will make sure that your heirs and advisors will carry out your desires.

Is there a disaster looming in your planning?

Or will it be smooth sailing?
